

An unsustainable oil based world

•Transport

1. Oil based transport will not last forever and damages the environment
2. Will become very expensive

•Economy

1. Global trade will cease and national trade will be severely hampered
2. People will lose income sources and lower quality of living

•Environment

1. The extraction of oil has led to countless environmental damages across the globe
2. The combustion of oil is harmful to animals and humans alike and damages the environment

A sustainable renewable future

• Transport

1. An electric vehicle based transport system would be sustainable with renewably derived energy.
2. Produced cheaply once up and running

•Economy

1. Ireland is in a position for massive development of wind power boosting the national economy greatly
2. This will create a large industry creating many new jobs in Ireland

•Environment

1. Done properly renewable sources can be harvested for energy with little to no damage to the environment
2. There are no harmful by products from this form of energy generation
